However, this paper will focus specifically on Luther's ideas about women, marriage, and family in an effort to investigate and analyze gender roles and sexuality [in 20 minutes]. Students in the panel will write short papers exploring how Protestantism manifests itself in literature, specifically the novel.

The difference in assumptions and purposes of these two paintings thus reveals. Amidst these challenges, Christian faculty need to be equipped to sufficiently if not profoundly utilize the scripture in their social work, biology, business, nursing, or sociology classrooms without erring into unfitting biblicism. Some might be skeptical of Finn's incorporation of biblical characters into contemporary contexts. Some of these scholars studied in Germany with Johann August Neander and engaged with Leopold von Ranke, who wrote scholarly texts on the Reformation and Martin Luther.

Second, the paper considers the Reformation hermeneutically in order to argue Creation and Franciscan Animism:
